FEATURING

Adam Holtzer, Founder of Whogga and Connections4Hire

Adam Holtzer is an emerging entrepreneur disrupting the "traditional" world of networking and business development. Adam is the founder of Connections4Hire, a business development consulting firm, as well as the co-founder of whogga, LLC., an exclusive invitation only social network for business owners. Adam lives in Dix Hills NY with his wife Lara, daughter Mollie and son Jaxson. Outside of work, you will likely find Adam dressed up in a superhero costume of his kids choice at a local playground running, "flying" and playing with Mollie and Jaxson. Adam's favorite thing in life is surrounding himself with good people, and seeing others around him happily enjoying themselves.
