

Web Archiving Workshop

Mondays, March 5 and 12, 2-4 pm

Queens College GSLIS Department, room TBA

Join Queens Library's Metadata Services Coordinator and Director of the Queens Memory Program, Natalie Milbrodt; Digital Literacy Coordinator Jeff Lambert; and Data Specialist Kate Finley in a two-part workshop to learn more about web archiving in libraries.

Session 1 (March 5):

- General background introduction to web archiving, including the Internet Archive, and the administrative and curatorial considerations for librarians interested in starting a web archiving program at their libraries.
- Presenters will set up some new web pages to be archived based on Queens Library's collection development criteria.

Session 2 (March 12):

- Demonstration of Archive-It web archiving tools.
- Participants will get logins so they can explore the Queens Library's web archiving backend and the results of the web crawl set up during the first session.

Participants are welcome to attend one or both sessions! Please RSVP to Jeffrey.delgado518@gmail.com.
