

MA PROGRAM IN LIBERAL STUDIES

LECTURES & EVENTS, SPRING 2014

Why and How to Apply for a PhD: A panel on Pursuing Doctoral Studies

Friday April 4, 2014, 4-6 pm- Room C197

Are you interested in applying for a PhD and want to learn more about this process?
Come listen to a panel of faculty and students discuss their experience of the admissions process and why to pursue doctoral studies.

Panelists:

Dr. Jennifer Furlong, Director of Career Planning and Professional Development, the Graduate Center, CUNY.

Professor Glenn Hendl, Associate Professor, Chair of the English Department, Fordham University.

Professor Kristen M. Shockley, Assistant Professor of Psychology, Baruch College, the Graduate Center, CUNY.

Aneta Samkoff, PhD Student, Art History Department, the Graduate Center, CUNY.

Nora Slonimsky, PhD Student, History Department, the Graduate Center, CUNY.

Moderator: Professor Elizabeth Macaulay-Lewis, Visiting Assistant Professor and Deputy Executive Officer, MA in Liberal Studies, the Graduate Center, CUNY.

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC
www.gc.cuny.edu/mals