

PEDAGOGY POP-UPS

Generative AI in the Classroom: Best Practices, a CETLL Guide

Monday, September 15, 2025

In 2024-2025, in collaboration with Amy Wan, Professor of English and Special Assistant to the Provost for Writing, CETLL hosted a Generative AI in the Classroom Faculty Fellowship, through which an interdisciplinary cohort of thirteen faculty members were supported to critically engage the different concerns and opportunities that generative AI presents for our work as educators.

From our discussions with the Faculty Fellows and other resources, we have developed Generative AI in the Classroom: Best Practices, a CETLL Guide.

Join us for a virtual launch of this guide, where we will share highlights and engage in conversation about best practices around generative AI in the classroom.

Link to Register: forms.office.com/r/ENcXfQJmtg

Location & Time

Online Zoom Meeting
12:30 p.m. - 1:30 p.m.