

POLITICAL LEAPS OF FAITH

Join Political Leaps of Faith, a transpolitical group on campus, to discuss values and explore issues that often divide us across political lines. It's an opportunity to meet people with different political identities and have a real conversation. We also run workshops on communication and organizing skills and work on a community based joint effort.

* Political Leaps of Faith is a project of the Center for Ethnic, Racial, and Religious Understanding in collaboration with Pierry Benjamin, a local Republican organizer.
